DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 7, 1834.

☞The weather continues excessively cold.—The river is not yet closed, but it is full of floating ice, and navigation is suspended.

THE REMOVAL OF THE DEPOSITS.—This most high handed measure, it seems, is about to excite all that indignation which is due to it. The Kitchen Cabinet, it appears, have overrated the spirit of submissiveness of the partisans of the president.

"Hark! methinks I hear the bard, as he divinely sings—
"The lion plays upon the harp too hard; he'll break the strings."

The spirit of resistance to tyranny is roused in the south. Virginia, that took the lead in opposition to the tyrannical ministry, in 1775, will also be in the van in opposing the base schemes of a Kitchen Cabinet.—The whole South will probably follow the noble example of the "Old Dominion," and it would be strange indeed if States, which have contended so strenuously for a limited construction of the constitution, should fail to condemn this high handed usurpation.

But what will our own state, and our own Legislature say upon this subject? Will they continue spell bound? Pennsylvania, which is likely to be most seriously injured by the derangement of the currency which has already commenced!—Will she refuse or neglect to raise her voice against a measure which will greatly embarrass, if not arrest, our great scheme of improvements—which will reduce our revenue by loss of premiums on loans—by reduction of canal tolls and auction duties? Will she remain a passive observer of a measure intended to break down a national bank in Pennsylvania, and build up another in New York?

Since the decision of the delegates, from Philadelphia and Allegheny, in favor of the Mahoning rout, we have avoided entering into any discussion with the friends of the southern rout.—We had no partialities in favor of the northern rout—we believed it to be the most advantageous—but, when a Committee was appointed to examine and decide, we determined to support their decision, so far as our ability extended. After a deliberate and careful examination, that Committee reported in favor of the rout we had thought best, and we were satisfied, though we took no pleasure in the disappointment of our friends in Columbiana county, and have carefully avoided entering into any controversy with them.

The last New Lisbon Palladium contains an article, however, which we cannot permit to pass unnoticed.—The article commences as follows—

"If the editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette were an enemy to the Pennsylvania Canal, and the proposed junction of it with the Ohio Canal, by the Mahoning, and wished, by the influence of his paper, to throw obstacles in the way of said junction, we cannot conceive a more effectual method, for the accomplishment of his design, than the publication of the Collector's certificate, in the Gazette, of the 26th ult."

Again—the editor of the Palladium proceeds to introduce an extract from our paper, of the 26th ult., as follows—

"That portion of the certificate, which the editor of the Gazette has extracted, reads thus:

'In the certificate of the Collector at Cleveland, it appears that, in five years, the navigation from that port to Buffalo was not open before the seventeenth of April—and that in three out of these five years, it was not open until after the eighth of May, and one year not until the twenty third.'"

And, finally, that editor has the following comment—

"The mouth of the Canal, at Akron, from its northern latitude, and its proximity to the Lake, will be closed, in the winter, nearly as soon as the Ohio Canal, at Cleveland, and remain closed within a few days as long in the spring, which has been shown by the certificate, to range from the 17th of April to the 23d of May."

From the remarks, in the last extract, it seems that the editor of the Palladium either supposed that the Canal at Cleveland was closed, during these five years, until from the 17th of April till the 23d of May—or, if he knew better, that he wished to persuade his readers that such was the fact. This was a gross mistake, or misrepresentation. The certificate referred to, and which was before that editor, would show that the navigation from Detroit, which is almost a degree north of Cleveland, to that place, had commenced, upon an average of these five years, thirty four days sooner than from Buffalo to Cleveland. The obstruction existed at Buffalo, and not at Cleveland.

The continuance of this obstruction at Buffalo, arises not from the difference of latitude between that place and Cleveland, but from the circumstance that the winds and the current drive the ice to the lower end of the Lake, and keep the harbor of Buffalo blocked up long after the upper ports are open. If the editor of the Palladium is misinformed upon this subject, he had better look over the certificate of the Collector at Cleveland, or converse with some of his better informed friends.

CONGRESS.

IN SENATE.

TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES.

Friday, January 3, 1834.—The following resolution, offered yesterday, by Mr. Sprague, was taken up for consideration:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to communicate to the Senate, so far as the documents and returns received will permit, the amount of trade between the United States and the British North American Colonies, the British West Indies, the Danish West Indies, and the Swedish West Indies, since the 30th day of September, 1832, distinguishing the amount of American, British, and foreign tonnage, which has entered and departed to and from those places respectively, or the United States generally. Also, the amount of imports and exports of American and foreign produce, distinguishing between the same.

Mr. Sprague said that his object, in offering this resolution, was to obtain an official statement of the present condition of the trade with the British Colonies, insular or continental, lying in this hemisphere. This was considered a subject of deep interest some years ago, and he was persuaded it had lost none of its intrinsic importance. It was known that this subject had been a matter of controversy between the U. States and Great Britain, from the existence of the Government up to the year 1830, when the celebrated "arrangement," as it had been denominated, was made of the Colonial trade. It was strictly a question of navigation, affecting the carrying trade of the United States. The whole matter of controversy was, whether the United States should have an equal and fair participation in the carrying its own produce from this country to the ports for which it was ultimately destined, or whether an undue advantage should be given to Great Britain. Up to the year 1830, from the superiority of the American navigators, and the natural advantages which their country possessed from position in relation to that trade, the United States had had nine tenths of the carrying trade existing between it and the British Colonial possessions. The amount of British tonnage did not equal one tenth of the American, up to the period he had mentioned. How far it had been increased since the arrangement of the carrying trade, in 1830, would be seen by the public documents. During the first year after this arrangement, the British tonnage in the direct trade to the West Indies arose to 96 per cent. and to the North American Colonies exceeded the American, for every 100 tons of American there were 110 tons of British; and in the succeeding year, ending September 30th, 1832, the trade seems to have been still more diverted in the circuitous rout through the Northern Colonies in British bottoms. The tonnage which departed from the United States was, in the direct trade, 66,769 American, and 19,357 Foreign; while to the North American Colonies on our borders, there were 66,056 American, and 146,292 Foreign—the foreign more than doubling the American.

The whole amount of tonnage which cleared from the United States for the British West Indies and British American Colonies both, during the year ending September, 1832, was 132,825 American, and 165,649 foreign. Thus the foreign tonnage, which, prior to the arrangement, was less than one tenth, has, under and by virtue of that diplomatic arrangement, actually exceeded the American! Such were the facts disclosed by the documents heretofore communicated, a tabular statement from which he then held in his hand, well worthy the attention of the Senate; and he wished, by means of the resolution which he had offered, to ascertain the state of the trade to the most recent date.

The resolution was then adopted.

Respecting the removal of the Government Deposits from the Bank of the United States, it appears probable that there will be heard from the entire South but one opinion, and but one voice. It will be seen, from the Proceedings in the House of Delegates, of Virginia, in a preceding column, that even the Constitutional opponents of the Bank are of the opinion that the measure of the removal of the public money from the Bank of the U. States was "premature, injudicious, impolitic, and not called for by the exigencies of the country." We add, with entire confidence in our prediction, that we do not believe that the measure will, six months from now, find respectable friends or apologists in any part of the country. It is one which cannot stand the test of examination. As a financial error, it is producing, and must continue to produce, most disastrous effects: but, in a political and moral light, it is, as it strikes us, still less defensible.—Nat. Intel., Jan. 4.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF VIRGINIA.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES,
Tuesday, Dec. 31, 1833.

Mr. Barbour, from the select committee on the Deposits, reported sundry resolutions. Mr. Barbour stated that a report would have accompanied these resolutions, but for his indisposition. He asked that the resolutions be read, which being done,

Mr. Roane said he had had the fortune to be one of the committee, and the misfortune to be in a minority upon it. He had differed in all things from the majority, but had thrown no impediment in their way. As one of the minority, he desired promptly to submit his views on the grave, novel, and important subject, and he had put them in the form of resolutions, which he hoped would be printed and issued to the world, in company with the resolutions of the Committee, Mr. R. wished his resolutions to be considered as a substitute.—Nat. Int.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE DEPOSITS.

The select committee to whom was referred so much of the Governor's Message as relates to an agreement entered into on the 22d of October last, between the Bank of Virginia and its Office of Discount at Norfolk, and the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, have, according to order, had the same under consideration, and now report, in part thereon, the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, As the sense of this Committee, that the said agreement is injurious to the People of this Commonwealth, and ought to be rescinded; that its terms and conditions may be greatly prejudicial to the Bank of Virginia, by subjecting its dealings to an inspection more full and rigid than that which is reserved to this State by the charter of incorporation; that allurements to overtrade, and make excessive issues of its paper upon expectations which may be fatally illusory, may bring upon the country heavy calamities, and upon the solvency of the institution, perils and jeopardy that may only be averted by submitting to any impositions, however severe, that the Secretary of the Treasury will dictate.

2. That the critical examination to which the Bank has agreed to submit its books and transactions, not to the Secretary alone, but to any agent that he may appoint, (tending necessarily to a disclosure of the affairs of people and the fiscal means of the Commonwealth) is degrading to the State, and hurtful to its citizens and its several banks; that the stipulation to give collateral security for its fidelity and ability to perform this new duty, at the will of the Secretary, gives a more absolute dominion to that federal officer, over the acts of the Bank, and, by the power which he retains to discharge it at pleasure from the service of the government, the stability of the institution, the rights of the stockholders, and the interests of the State, are subjected to the caprice of an individual holding office under another government, and who is in no wise responsible to the power of this Commonwealth.

3. That while this Committee disclaims the expression or intimation of any opinion in reference to the constitutionality of the existing Bank of the United States, it nevertheless conceives that the power of the Secretary of the Treasury to establish and supply a national currency through the agency of the State Banks, or otherwise, is not sanctioned by the federal constitution; and, if such attempt be persevered in, much of harm may follow to the good people of this Commonwealth, as well as to its other banking establishments already in existence, by giving to the favorite Bank an undue ascendency over the circulating medium of the country, visiting it with the evils of a vicious currency, in which the speculator, the broker, and the politician, may prosper, at the expense and hazard of the farmer, the laborer, the mechanic, and the merchant.

4. That the recent removal of the Federal Deposits from the Bank of the United States and its branches, at the instance and upon the responsibility of the President of the United States, ought to be, and is regarded, as an alarming usurpation of power, and a breach of the public faith, most seriously felt in the distress which its sudden and unexpected operation inflicts upon the community, and which, if submitted to, converts our free system, founded and secured to us by a Government of LAW, into one guided, controlled, and acting by WILL.

5. And regarding the assent of Virginia to the said agreement as giving countenance to this act of unwarrantable power in the Federal Executive, the Commonwealth owes it to itself, and to the Constitution, to employ promptly, all proper means to revoke and annul the same, to the end that this portion of the public treasure may, hereafter, be lodged in the places where, by law, it ought to be deposited, and that it may be again subject to the constitutional control of Congress.

6. Resolved, That the Treasurer of this Commonwealth be instructed to use all the influence of his situation, to procure a recision of the contract between the Bank of Virginia and its office at Norfolk, and the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

MR. ROANE'S SUBSTITUTE.

1. Resolved, By the General Assembly of Virginia, that the recent removal, by the Secretary of the Treasury, of the Federal Deposits from the Bank of the United States to the State Banks, was premature, injudicious, and impolitic, and not called for by the exigencies of the country; and is furthermore to be deeply deplored, because, inasmuch as they were admitted to be safe in said Bank, their removal, at that time, under all the attendant circumstances, if it does not compel the Institution to cause premature distress throughout the country, at least affords it a plausible pretext for hastening and increasing that derangement of the circulating medium, which must inevitably, to a certain extent, precede and attend a dissolution of its charter, and therefore increases its claims of perpetuating its existence.

2. Resolved, That the Congress of the United States is not vested by the Constitution thereof with the power to incorporate a National Bank, and that our Senators are hereby instructed, and our Representatives earnestly requested, to oppose all attempts which may be made to recharter the present Bank, and to aid in passing all needful and proper laws to compel or enable the directors thereof to bring its concerns to a final close, in the manner least injurious to the currency of the country, and the happiness of the People.

3. Resolved, That as the Federal Deposits were thus removed, it became a matter of deep solicitude throughout the Union that they should be transferred to places of entire safety; and this Assembly feel gratified to learn that such portion of them as are destined to be disbursed in Virginia, for the immediate benefit of her own citizens, should have been confided to a Bank, which, having for many years been the faithful depository and disburser of the funds of this Commonwealth, and thereby secured and enjoyed the full and uninterrupted confidence of its citizens, and of this Assembly, has given the best possible evidence that the funds thus confided to its care, will be used to the advantage of its own stockholders, and at all times faithfully paid over to those entitled to receive them. And that this General Assembly, judging from the past prudence and fidelity of the said Bank, can see no reason whatever to believe that it would, for a moment, continue the depository of the said funds, if it was required to do so, to submit to any thing repugnant to the interests of its stockholders, derogatory to the dignity of the State, or in the violation of the charter of its own existence.

Mr. Barbour said he had desired, and the Committee had earnestly desired, to avoid blending the consideration of the two questions, of the deposits, and the constitutionality of the Bank of the U. S. In that wish he had thought—but in this perhaps he was mistaken—the gentleman from Hanover (Mr. Roane) had concurred. He believed it the anxious wish of a majority of the committee to forbear the discussion of a subject which was not embraced in the Governor's message, the basis of the inquiries of the committee, which was not included in the circle of their duties, and which, therefore, had no proper place in the discussion.—Mr. B. observed that the resolutions embraced questions near and dear to all, in their consequences, and upon which it became the freemen of Virginia to speak in a voice which would compel itself to be heard, or consent to see every thing they held sacred—their liberty and rights—put in jeopardy by lawless usurpation. He had no desire to conceal his opinions on any subject allied to that embraced in the resolutions of the committee, and when a fit occasion offered, he promised the gentleman from Hanover, to come out; nay, more, he thanked that gentleman for an opportunity of making known his opinions on the subject of the existence of the United States Bank—or, he should have been willing to thank him, but for the necessity of speedily acting upon the other matter. If that valuable institution was to be struck down, he would conjure the House, in the language of a celebrated Grecian, "strike, but hear."

Mr. COLSTON wished to know in what character the gentleman from Hanover presented his resolutions—as a member of the House only, or as a member of the Select Committee?

Mr. ROANE replied, as a member of the House—as a substitute.

Some conversation ensued between Messrs. BARBOUR, COLSTON, and ROANE, as to the day for the discussion of the report, in which lengthened discussion was deprecated on all hands, and the necessity of speedy action assented to.

Friday was then designated, at Mr. BARBOUR'S instance, as the day for considering the report and substitute.

An act has passed the Legislature of Louisiana, repealing all the existing laws against the introduction of slaves into that State. There are left, accordingly, no restrictions upon the introduction of slaves, except a provision that, if during two months the purchaser discovers that the slave is addicted to running away, or, within eight months, discovers any "rehibitory defect"—so, in the paper from which we quote—he may have recourse against the vender.—Nat. Intel.

We copied, yesterday, from the Montreal Herald, an article which is worthy of particular attention. The conduct of President Jackson in the removal of the Deposits from the Bank of the United States, and his reply to the call of the Senate for his communication to the Cabinet, are exhibited by the C anadian editor to the people of the two provinces, as a warning against American republicanism—as sufficient to refute all the representations of the reality and beauty of American freedom, which are insidiously made by the enemies of the British rule, resident in Canada. We may well be surprised that those measures of our President, which have left such an impression upon a loyal Canadian, should be countenanced by any member of our Congress, the representatives of the people and guardians of our republican system.—Nat. Gaz.

North Carolina.—The Legislature of this State has passed an act to incorporate the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad Company; and they have before them bills for continuing the Petersburg Railroad to Raleigh; for a railroad from Halifax to Raleigh; others from Beaufort, on the seaboard, to the Mountains; from Wilkins's Ferry, on Roanoke, to the Virginia line; from Fayetteville to the Yadkin River; from Fayetteville to Campbelton; from the Roanoke to the Yadkin; also a bill for forming the Cape Fear and Waccamaw Canal; a canal in Washington county, &c.

Four Bank bills have also passed one branch of the Legislature, and it is believed they will pass the other, viz. to renew the charter of the Bank of Cape Fear; to establish the Merchants' Bank of Newbern; the Albemarle Bank of Edention; and to establish a Bank at Raleigh, the capital of which (1,500,000 dollars,) is to be owned by the State and individuals conjointly, the State to have the privilege of taking two fifths. A tax of twenty five cents per share on each of said Banks, to be paid annually to the State Treasury.

The resolution in relation to the removal of the Government deposits from the Bank of the United States, has not yet been acted upon; but there is no doubt, we understand, of its passing by a large majority.

Report of the Secretary of the Treasury.—We have had no space for comment an the annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury, which occupied a large share of our columns on Friday. Nor is there much to say about it. It has the merit of brevity, and is generally perspicuous.

There are one or two observations, however, in reference to the Tariff, deserving of notice. Mr. Taney forewarns us that "unless the revenue to arise under it should hereafter be more productive than is anticipated, it will be necessary in two years from this time, to impose duties on articles that are now free, in order to meet the current expenses of the Government."

Here is a fine commentary upon that system of vascillation in the regulation of duties, which is so injurious both to the manufacturer and the merchant, and benefits nobody but speculators and political desperadoes.

There is another remark in the report that should not escape observation. The Secretary is pleased to say that "it is understood to be conceded, on all hands, that a tariff, for protection, merely, is to be finally abandoned, and that the revenue is to be reduced to the necessary wants of the Government."

Now we beg leave to tell Mr. Taney that this assumption is wholly gratuitous—unless indeed he would give broader scope to the "necessary wants of the government" than the democracy to which he has recently united himself, have been disposed to concede. Our old federal associate may rely upon it, that the principle of protection is not abandoned—certainly not on all hands—and to the extent that may be found necessary to secure our independence of foreign nations, by the fabrication among us of our necessary articles of consumption, it will always be adhered to as a vital principle of national policy, by a great portion, and, we hope, a large majority of the American people.—N. Y. Spectator.

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL.

Gentlemen—It may gratify many of your readers, as it certainly will those who are Stockholders in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company, to learn, that the late storm and heavy fall of rain which produced so much damage in other respects, did not injure, in the slightest degree, that part of the Canal between the Basin, at Georgetown, and Harper's Ferry—nor is it known that any injury was sustained by the Canal and Dams now constructing above that point.

A very small breach was made in the Berm bank of that part of the Canal just finished in this city, by the unprecedented flood of water from the land. This has been repaired at a very trifling cost.

It is now eight weeks since the new portion of Canal between Seneca and Harper's Ferry, (a distance of forty miles) was first opened for use; since which time the trade upon it, and upon the remaining twenty miles below it, has not been interrupted by accident for a single hour.

It was the intention of the Canal Company to have completed the forty miles of Canal above Harper's Ferry, and now under contract, by the opening of the trade of the next Spring; but the return of Cholera to the line last Summer, has defeated this purpose. It will, however, be completed as high as the fourth Dam, twelve miles above Shepherdstown; and, in order to obviate the difficulty which the Dam above Williamsport would present to the river trade from Cumberland, it is understood that the Company have contracted for a temporary Lock, to be completed by the 10th of March next, to pass boats around the Dam.—This being done, we may anticipate the arrival, in our District, of a considerable quantity of Cumberland Coal, during the next Summer. DR. WEBSTER'S BIBLE.

We have recently taken an occasional look into the edition of the Holy Bible, as revised by Dr. Webster, of New Haven, and published by Hezekiah Howe, of that city. The work has evidently been executed with great care and circumspection, and we are inclined to award it not only a high meed of praise, but very general if not entire approbation. It is not a new translation, as some have apprehended it would be, to a partial extent, but merely a careful revision. The Christian Spectator reduces the labors of Dr. Webster, for the most part, to three classes, which we will specify. 1st. He has corrected acknowledged errors in grammar. When the received version was made, the grammar of our language had not been studied, and reduced to rules, and principles, as it has been since. 2d. In the place of words now entirely obsolete, or so changed in their signification as to be obscure to unlearned readers, he has inserted words more clearly expressive of the sense of the translators.

We will note two or three improved readings. For instance, respecting the change which the signifination of the word "prevent" has undergone, since the time of the received translation:

Psalm cxix. v. 147, 148.—"I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hoped in thy word. Mine eyes prevent the night watches, that I might meditate on thy word."—King James's Bible.

The same verses are thus rendered by Dr. Webster:

"I came before the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hoped in thy word. My eyes anticipated the night watches, that I might meditate on thy word."

Again, in the case of the ancient and legal meaning of the verb "to let," that is, "to hinder," or, restrain," we cite the following example of an improvement in the version:

II. Thess. ii. 7. "For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way."—King James's version.

"For the mystery of iniquity doth already work; only he who now restraineth, will restrain until he be taken out of the way."—Dr. Webster's version.

Again: 1. Thess. iv. 15. "For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive, and remain unto the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent them which are asleep."—Received translation.

Now, to the unlearned reader who is not aware of the change of the meaning of the word prevent, this passage is unintelligible. But as rendered by Dr. Webster, without change or violence to the translation, but by the change of a single word, the meaning is at once clear, and the passage perspicuous. Thus—

"For this we say to you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive and remain to the coming of the Lord, shall not precede them who are asleep."

We might cite many other examples of improved diction; but it is not necessary to our present purpose. In the third place, to quote the Christian Spectator, "Dr. Webster has substituted for such words and phrases as offend delicacy, others equally expressive of the sense of the original, but more suited to the existing state of the language. Words in Shakspeare, which gave no offence in the Euphemistic Court of Elizabeth, cannot now be spoken in mixed company. Why? Not merely because the knights and maids of honor, that surrounded the virgin queen, had so much less politeness and refinement than modern ladies and gentlemen; but, to some extent, because words, which were then refined enough, have since grown coarse by becoming vulgar. In the same way, expressions used by our translators may have been proper enough two hundred and thirty years ago, though now they cannot well be pronounced in a promiscuous assembly. Other changes there are, but without attempting to speak of them particularly, we may safely say, from a short experience, that those who make use of this edition, for reading in the family, while they will be rarely conscious of any change in the diction, will find that they read with an increased interest, and with a livelier and more distinct perception of God's Oracles.

The Times.—We find, in the New York American, the following annunciation:

"A Bank Broke.—Information was received in Wall street, yesterday, that the Washington Bank, at Hackensack, (N. J.) had stopped payment. Its circulation is said to be very small."

Mexican Exiles.—The principal are now in this city, Bustamente, Arista, et al; and we hope they shall have reason to respect our country before leaving it. We criticise them not; we censure not; the sacred law of hospitality forbids it—generously forbids it.—But we are rejoiced to hear that Mexico is tranquilized, and about to reap the fruits of constitutional freedom, of industry, and commerce.—*N. J. APPLETON'S LATE IMPROVED
WASHING MACHINE.

THIS valuable improvement has been preferred by all who have used it to any other machine of the kind yet offered to the public.—It is expeditious, without injuring the clothes washed, as will be seen in the certificates below. All those who wish to save labor in washing, will please to call and see the operation, at the Masinon House, corner of Wood and Fifth streets. Machines, and the right of counties for sale—Machines 12 dollars—and at any persons service for trial. Dec. 31, 1833.

We have had in use Appleton's Patent Washing Machine, and do not hesitate to say that it is preferable to any that we have seen or used. A woman can wash as much in one day, with the machine, as she could in three by the hand, and only half the soap is necessary. We think it clears the clothes better than hand washing, without injury to them. We have also used Barnes' Patent Steam Washing Machine, called Peg Machine, but give Appleton's the preference. It washes cleaner and faster; therefore we recommend Appleton's Machine to the public in general.

Lucy Higginbotham, | Elizabeth McKim.
Robert Poore,

We have in use Appleton's Patent Washing Machine. It is so simple in its construction that it may be used by any unskilful hand, and we do recommend it as a great saving of time and labor.

Hamilton County Agricultural Society.

It is hereby certified, that the Judges, appointed by the Hamilton County Agricultural Society, for the exhibition, held at Mill Creek, on the second of October, 1833, having awarded that Appleton's Washing Machine, submitted to the Society, on trial, appeared to their satisfaction to be of utility as a labor saving machine in domestic economy—they unhesitatingly recommend it to their fellow citizens—in testimony whereof, this Certificate is given. FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

Nov. 8, 1833. MOSES ATWOOD.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
other lots, containing about			6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county—and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others—a soil rich and productive—the neighborhood abounding in coal—well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn. It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving t emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
